Drinking a toast to each other—in milk, of course—are these youngsters picked as finalists in a contest to determine the typical American boy. Gathered in New York for that purpose are Johnny Simpson, 11, of Hollywood, Cal.; Teddy Cahill, 14, of Pittsfield, Mass.; Tommy Ferriek, 14, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Karl McCready, of Louisville, Ky.; Charley Humfield, 12, of St. Louis, Mo., and Bobby Macauley, 8, of Duluth, Minn. Winner gets a $1,000 check and a radio appearance.

BRITISH FIELD ARMY DOUBLED

Action Is Seen As Move Against Dictator Expansion

LONDON, March 29.—Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in commons today that the strength of the British territorial field army would be doubled, giving it a total of 340,000 men.

The prime minister indicated, however, that the government would not introduce conscription to bring the territorial army—corresponding to the United States' national guard—up to this figure.

Announcing this move to prepare Britain for a leading role in efforts to unite nations against expansion of the dictatorship, Chamberlain said:

"We believe we can demonstrate the possibilities of voluntary service to meet all our needs."

Queen Elizabeth, on one of her rare visits to the house of commons—heard the announcement from the speaker's gallery.

Chamberlain's announcement came shortly after a cabinet meeting which considered conscription and other measures to fit Britain to take the lead in efforts to unite several nations against Nazi German expansion.

Motorist Is Held In Clutter Death

WELLSVILLE, March 29.—Stanley Baker of Hammondsville was held for action by the Columbiana county grand jury Tuesday on a charge of second degree manslaughter by Mayor Howard L. Kelley in connection with the death of Claude I. Clutter, Wellsville postier, who died last Thursday of injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

Coroner Arnold Devon ruled second degree manslaughter, charging careless operation of the automobile by Baker.

FASCISM TEST SEEN AS FRANCO WINS

SENATE TO ACT IMMEDIATELY IN "RED" INQUIRY

Probe Committee Of Five Senators Will Be Appointed

PROPOSAL WINS
BY SINGLE VOTE

Senate Passes Parole Ripper, Which Is Sent To House

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 29.—The leadership of the Ohio senate promised quick compliance today with an order for the investigation of alleged un-American subversive teachings in state universities and public schools.

Frank E. Whittemore, Republican floor leader, said an inquiry committee of five senators would be appointed to go to work immediately. It is required to report its findings by May 1.

One-Vote Margin

A resolution initiating the inquiry was adopted by a margin of one vote late yesterday after two hours' debate in which sponsors declared Ohioans must be safeguarded against the influence of Communism and opponents asserted the proposal was "conceived in a spirit of Fascism."

The vote was 19 yes to 12 no. Eighteen votes were required for adoption.

Another "ripper" bill of the administration was on its way toward passage today as the senate sent to the house a measure to reorganize the state parole board.

The bill, passed 27 to 3, would abolish the present four-member state parole board controlled by Democratic appointees and replace it with a three-member board and parole commission chosen by Gov. John W. Bricker.

Sen. Maurice W. Lipscher (D-Mahoning) questioned the statement because, he said, the bill would allow the governor to designate the commission's chairman and vice chairman.

Aimed at Mrs. Smith
The measure is aimed particularly at Mrs. Myrna Smith of Kent, who was appointed to a six-year term on the present board shortly before former Gov. Martin L. Davey left office. Mrs. Smith was Davey's personal secretary.

The new commissioners would serve six-year terms at $6,000 a year, as do the present board members. They would be empowered to sit alone at hearings, whereas members of the present board sit

Elks Rally Friday; Await Lodge Chief

A group of Elks from Salem are expected to join other lodge members of the district at Alliance Friday night when Dr. Edward J. McCormick of Toledo, grand exalted ruler, comes to Alliance to witness the initiation of an "Americanism class" of approximately 100 candidates.

Mayor Floyd Senn will officially present the key to the City of Alliance to the visiting dignitary, in the presence of officers of the Ohio Elks association and executives of the Alliance lodge.

A fish dinner will be served at the Country club at 6:30, followed at 8 p. m. by a downtown parade. Afterwards the throng will assemble in the lodge home on E. Market st. for the initiation.

Peters Discusses "Crime As Career"

Atty Edmund Peters, formerly with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, addressed the Salem Quota club at the regular dinner-meeting in the Memorial building Tuesday evening.

His subject was, "Crime As A Career," in which he pointed out that the beginner criminal starts with petty misdemeanors and drifts gradually into larger and wider fields of crime until crime becomes a career.

The program was given in connection with a yearly objective of the Quota international, the prevention of crime, which is being stressed as a program point by all clubs.

Entertainment included two vocal selections by Miss Ora Vincent, "The Old Refrain" and "O Heart of Mine". She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Anna Cook.

The club will meet again April 11.

Held In Assault

ALLIANCE, March 29.—Judge Harry E. Moreland set bond for Godfrey J. Jurica, 39, at $1,000 and ordered him held yesterday afternoon pending developments in the condition of Emilio Resile, 51, of Atwater, whom he allegedly assaulted in a local night club Saturday.

Resile is in City hospital with a fractured skull.

CHAPIN'S MILLINERY

Chosen As Mount Union's Queen

Jean Miller, Mount Union college junior from Mogadore, O., was chosen from a group of 33 candidates to be May queen and preside over the activities of that day on May 20, 1939.

Miss Miller is the great-grandniece of Louis H. Miller, after whom Miller hall was named on the Mount Union college campus.

She has gained distinction at the college for her excellent portrayal of lead roles in campus productions. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Two judges from the Cleveland School of Art, Walter A. Sinn, instructor of sculpture, and Mrs. Glenn M. Shaw, instructor of design, collaborated in the choice.

Jane White and Dorothy Ayers, both of Alliance, were chosen as alternates for the post.

Spring Has Come— But Keep Moving

Twenty tickets were issued motorists yesterday for over-time parking as police department members resumed the task of chalk-marking automobiles parked in the downtown section.

A similar drive was ordered by Chief Ralph Stoffer several months ago and car owners filled the mayor's office almost daily.

The business district is restricted to hour and a half and half-hour parking zones.

Nazis Take Steps To Nazify Church

BERLIN, March 29.—Nazification of the Evangelical (German Protestant) church was advanced another decisive step today on the orders of Friedrich Werner, president of the supreme church council.

It was ordered that any church member has the right to choose some pastor other than the regular pastor for performance of "individual duties of his office, for religious instruction or even for his entire churchly ministrations."

The regular pastor must in such case turn over the use of the church and its appurtenances to a pastor chosen by the parishioner.

The orders further provided that members of the congregation who find their conception of religion differs from that of the regularly ordained pastor may demand that a minister whose views correspond to theirs be appointed at least as assistant pastor.

There are church members in each parish who wish the congregation to conform to Nazism. Wherever these have been in a minority, however, their efforts so far have proved to no avail.

"How Much Are We Worth As Citizens?" Is Pastor's Query

"How good an investment are we, as individuals?" asked Rev. Russell Humbert, pastor of Firestone Park Methodist Episcopal church, Akron, as he addressed members of the Methodist Men's club following dinner last evening in the church here.

While not attempting to answer the question, Rev. Humbert pointed out qualifications of a "good investment," and left his hearers to judge for themselves. Chief among those qualifications, the speaker explained, is good citizenship, and this he broke down to show just how every man may make himself worth more to his community and, consequently, earn the right to call himself a good citizen.

President Harold Williams presided. The speaker was presented by Carl Willman. Special music was provided by John L. Hundertmark, violinist, accompanied at the piano by Homer Taylor, while Charles Wolfe conducted assembly singing.

Rev. John Grohne, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Ira F. Mellinger and Clark Marshall, all of Leetonia, were guests of the club.

Action Is Deferred On T. B. Specialist

A committee from the Columbiana County Public Health league met with the county commissioners at Lisbon, yesterday afternoon regarding the employment of a tuberculosis specialist.

The commissioners decided to defer the employment of the specialist until a later date when more funds will be available.

Eight tuberculosis clinics are being planned for the balance of this year.

Girl Found, Safe, After Ninety-Mile Solo River Trip

HELENA, Ark., March 29.—Miss Hope Brewster, 24-year-old musician who left Memphis Monday in a $2 skiff, rested at a Helena hotel today after a 90-mile solo trip down the treacherous Mississippi river.

Found eating breakfast in the hotel cafe, she expressed disappointment that her daring river trip had caused so much comment. Airplane and speed boat parties joined in a search for her.

She had intended, she said, to remain in Helena and find employment, but in view of "the publicity" indicated she might continue down the river to get away from it.

Reluctant to discuss her experience, she said she did not want to go back to Memphis.

She arrived here yesterday, registering at the hotel and mentioning her voyage to no one until questioned by reporters, after she had been recognized from newspaper pictures by a waitress.

With that question answered, the opportunity might be at hand for a showdown over domination of the Mediterranean, Italian and German agitation for colonies, or the trade which all nations desire.

Uncertain Quantity
Franco won the war with German and Italian aid, but during the 32 months it took him to do so he was too busy to be a calculable factor elsewhere.

He was the uncertain quantity in the international picture.

By emerging in victory as a full-fledged member of the Rome-Berlin alliance and providing bases of operation in Spain, the English and French acknowledged that Franco would take an important place in the uneasy European situation.

Franco himself has said Spain would preserve her independence, but that she would have a voice in Mediterranean affairs. Franco's brother, envoy to Portugal, said in Lisbon last night that Italians and Germans were friends "who are in our hearts from now on."

Italian troops are in Spain now, despite French-British efforts during the war to get all foreign fighters out, and British political informants believe some will remain there.

"The Red Menace"
They base this belief on Fascist assertions the troops would not be withdrawn until Spain definitely "is rid of the red menace"—which could be open to varied interpretation.

Spain is as strategic in the Mediterranean as Poland now is in central Europe.

The British and French want a friendly Spain to assure the freedom of their communications with Africa and the near east, where lie their colonial possessions.

They want Poland to join in a bloc against further German expansion, because of Poland's military strength, because she borders on Germany and because Polish territorial interests may be the next to which German hopes may turn.

Polish reluctance has been the principal obstacle in the formation of a "Stop Hitler" league.

Concessions Seen
British diplomats were reported today to be seeking definite military alliances as a concession to Poland, rather than a loose bloc, as the cabinet met to continue discussions of foreign policy.

The French cabinet met today, in advance of a speech to the nation by Premier Daladier in answer to the Sunday address by Premier Mussolini of Italy on colonies.

Daladier was expected to declare that France would yield no colonial territory and that, furthermore, she would discuss other matters only if Italy stated them clearly and in a manner France considered not threatening.

Pressure on France for territorial readjustment is one of the things Mussolini is believed to have held up until the Spanish war ended—although the Italian press has carried on colonial agitation for nearly four months.

Scholarship Tests Scheduled Friday

LISBON, March 29.—Eight members of David Anderson, High school's senior class will participate in scholarship examinations Friday in East Palestine.

The students selected are: Marjorie Greene, Helen Lower, Franklin Kearney, Dale Holleman, William Maple, Worthy Law, James Pink and William Hollinger. The ten students in the county ranking highest will be awarded certificates, with the next 25 receiving honorable mention.

Superintendents H. C. Leonard of Lisbon, H. D. Evans of Fairfield and T. H. Harsh of East Palestine comprise the committee in charge.

Examiner Replaced

SPRINGFIELD, March 29.—James Jackson of Springfield was replaced today by Bert Carlos as Clark county pre-audit examiner for poor relief. Jackson was dismissed by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson when he refused to accept a transfer to Mahoning county.

Spain Becomes Strategic Spot In Mediterranean Crisis

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 29.—The probabilities of a decisive test between the Fascist and the non-Fascist states of Europe increased today as a consequence of the Nationalist victory in Spain.

The question of concern to England and France was whether the Nationalist general, Francisco Franco, would retain his ties with Germany and Italy to the exclusion of other alliances.

With that question answered, the opportunity might be at hand for a showdown over domination of the Mediterranean, Italian and German agitation for colonies, or the trade which all nations desire.

Uncertain Quantity
Franco won the war with German and Italian aid, but during the 32 months it took him to do so he was too busy to be a calculable factor elsewhere.

COMMITTED TO A BALANCED BUDGET

The Bricker administration gets credit for letting Ohioans know what their state government costs. The 1939-40 budget calls for $320,782,900, a staggering total, though $10,000,000 lower than the 1937-38 spending rate, which never was disclosed in the form of a grand total.

Apart from individual items in the proposed budget, some of which are bound to be controversial, there is included in the governor's message transmitting it to the general assembly this all-important statement of intention: "Ohio must and shall meet her obligations and operate within her income without new or increased taxes."

Gov. Bricker further promises that curtailment of the spending rate will be recommended if necessary during the life of the budget if shrinkage in revenue makes curtailment necessary. His fiscal policy is clear: The state must live within its income.

In Columbus, as in Washington, it is realized that much depends on the revival of enterprise, with particular reference to meeting the cost of relief. In Columbus, however, the theory is that the revival will be stimulated by advance assurance that government will operate within its present income, without further taxation. That theory still is blocked in Washington by the spend-tax-elect trilogy of the inner New Deal.

THE TASK LIES AHEAD

Surrender of Madrid, bringing military operations in the Spanish war to an end, may have effect outside Spain.

Italy now is relieved of the responsibilities it incurred by committing itself to Gen. Franco's cause. Premier Mussolini will be able to deal more directly with the governments of France and Great Britain now that he has vindicated his judgment with regard to Spain.

What he will decide to do remains to be seen, but it seems foolish to assume the threat of trouble has been lessened by termination of military operations in Spain. Italy is stronger in consequence of Franco's victory. Germany's prestige has been enhanced. France and Great Britain are correspondingly weaker.

As for Spain itself, what is there to be said about a country which has endured a long war that has not been said before? What has been settled, after all, except the fate of uncounted thousands of Spaniards who have died in the conflict? There is nothing to be celebrated except termination of slaughter.

If in the years to come, Gen. Franco and his successors prove able to reconstruct Spain to give its people a better mode of life, they will be able to claim credit proportionate to their achievement. Their work lies before them, not behind them. War has contributed nothing to their task but death and bitterness.

Perhaps Europe's opportunity to watch war's futility at close range for the last three years has been a timely reminder that combat determines nothing but man's failure to rise about it.

THE QUARTER POST

Suspense, on the increase for the last two weeks, now is scheduled to reach an early climax.

March ends that crucial "first quarter" which business analysts have been talking about so glibly.

The shape of whatever is going to happen will be cast early in the second quarter; some think it will be as early as next week.

This has been the prediction for the last six months. Watch April, the statistical seers have muttered between nervous bites on lead pencils.

Truth is, they're on the safe side. Something always happens in April. Over a period of years it has proved to be the month in which manufacturing output was largest. It is one of the best of the first eight months for retail trade. Residential building construction gets under way in April.

The question is whether these forces will turn out to be normal, less than normal, or more than normal. Analysts are staying on the fence as far as that point is concerned. Business, they say, is now moving sideways, indicating that it must still be on the fence too.

It can't move sideways forever, though. In April it must give the statistical experts of one extreme or the other a chance to boast, "I told you so." Even a statistician is entitled to some pleasure during the month of showers.

—AND BY THE WAY

Behind the ideological skirmish, trade goes on. Before the last Czech tear had been shed over German goosesteppers, United States trade associations were busy with the commercial angle of the disappearance of Czechoslovakia.

When they pooled their estimates, it was found a potential market for $30,000,000 worth of American manufactured goods had been created by termination of the Czech trade agreement. Glassware, shoes, fabric, gloves, textiles and other products formerly imported from Czechoslovakia henceforth must be supplied from domestic sources.

Upward of 75,000 men will find new employment. Eventually, a correspondingly large number may lose employment in other lines as American exports decline, but that is a possibility of tomorrow not to be confused with an actuality of today.

Even State Secretary Hull must admit his theory of reciprocal trade agreements is valid only for the long pull and isn't valid at all when a state is wiped out of existence, as Czechoslovakia was, by a stronger state with no interest in commercial cooperation.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, March 30

A DAY of major events may be read from the auguries of the mutual aspect of the moon and sun. While very definite if not drastic activities may be pursued under high tension, there also may be some debateable or dubious issues. Employers or superiors may be inclined to lend definite assistance and solid co-operation, but some surprising or tricky thing might "upset the apple cart." The mind may be alert or inspired enough to circumvent such undercover action. Be keenly vigilant.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of major activities, with much of a drastic, important and probably unpredictable character forecast. Important issues are at stake, and they will have the substantial recognition and support of employers, superiors and those in prestige and power. At the same time, loopholes for treachery, surprise and even self-undoing by a peculiar or subtle twist menace. An alert and highly-stimulated mentality can forestall such calamity, so dare to forge ahead to high marks.

A child born on this day may be talented, unusually versatile, audacious and ambitious, and should have daring and originality.

A LENTEN THOUGHT

By S. TALMAGE MAGANN

President, Salem Ministerial Association

RELIGION IN ACTION

Read Matthew 25:31-46

Some people seem to have the fallacious idea that Christianity is primarily a sort of insurance against hell. The teachings of Jesus reveal that it is a way of abundant life which will express itself in all human relationships.

A successful contractor made a loan of $3,000 on a $4,000 home, and had the security of a first mortgage on it. The man made his payments regularly for two years, then through misfortune beyond his control he was unable to pay anything on the loan.

After months of anxious waiting his situation failed to improve, and he decided to give up his house. He went to the contractor, thanked him for his kindness and asked him to take full possession of it. The contractor advised him to be patient and said, "Wait three more months to see if things improve for you. If by that time you are unable to make your payments, sell the house."

In three months the house was sold for enough to pay mortgage with interest and leave a balance of $1,200. This balance legally belonged to the contractor, but his Christian spirit gave him firm convictions on the difference between legal rights and moral rights. He therefore, gave the $1,200 to the man who had honestly tried to carry the mortgage.

This contractor expresses the Christian spirit in all of his dealings with others, and he is one of the happiest and most successful men I have ever known. Prayer: Fill us, O God, with the Spirit of Jesus, that we may be living witnesses to the happy privilege of expressing His way of life. Amen.

Patient Tells of Operation For Restoration of Sight

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

FOR MOST of us, fortunately, the idea of having a surgical operation on the eyes is something we never have to face. Yet, there are thousands this very minute to whom it is a reality, something they must experience today, tomorrow or next week.

For them there is a message of comfort in the actual experience of a man who went through the experience and found it not unendurable in these days of modern surgery and modern anaesthesia. It is all summed up in a little autobiography.

Dr. Clendinging will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

graphical article called "When Shadows Fall" in the Sight-Saving Review, published by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, New York City.

It just couldn't happen to him; there had never been any eye trouble in his family let alone blindness—that was the first reaction. Yet, there it was—his vision was getting weaker and weaker.

First Thought

First he thought he had overused his eyes, so he eased off in his reading and writing. But still the eyes were not right. He tried a stronger bulb for the light fixture in his room. He dreaded the dark streets as winter came on and stairways became a nightmare. Finally, after delays and self-encouraging explanations that all he needed was a little rest, he went to the specialist who had been recommended to him. After getting his history, then putting him through some simple tests, such as asking him to guess how many fingers the doctor held up, the latter said quietly, "You know what it is, probably," and confirmed the suspicion that it was a cataract.

So an operation was necessary and this is how it felt: "I climbed into the immaculate high raised bed. The anesthetic drops were spreading over the eyeball, producing a slightly dizzy feeling which soon wore off. Some firm drops were given, and then, wrapped in a bathrobe, I was trundled out to the elevator and taken to the operating room. The assisting surgeon skillfully washed my face and eyelids with a sponge and soap.

Eyelids Punctured

"And now, after a warning that a 'little inconvenience' would be fit, the eyelids, upper and lower, were punctured and some solution of cocaine was used quite extensively, so that the power to open or shut the eye was temporarily lost. 'No matter what you feel, don't wink or squeeze your eye," said the surgeon.

"If you want to hold on to anything, grab the sides of the operating table." And then I encountered the most peculiar sensation I have ever experienced. I knew and, indeed, felt the knives and needles cutting and entering the eyeball; I could feel the sharp edges or points, and yet there was no actual pain. It was as if it were all being done on someone else and I were looking on. The feel of the edges or points was just that sympathetic, imaginary sensation one has when viewing some such scene. Then I was told to relax, as it was over. After being wrapped in a blanket I was carried on a stretcher down to the elevator and then to my room. I do not believe I slept an hour the night through. After the second day the mask was taken off.

"On the tenth day of my hospital visit I started home, realizing that I should have sight and comparative normality in a short time."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendinging can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendinging, 235 W. 45th St., New York City. Hope They're Right Add to your signs of spring—The county engineering department today ordered the removal of snow fences about the district to permit farmers to do their spring plowing.

There are between 10,000 and 12,000 feet of the snow fence which, during the summer, is stored in the county garage at Lisbon.

Quiet, Please!

LOS ANGELES—Dr. Vern Knippen, professor of physics at University of California at Los Angeles, recommends earmuffs for city sleepers.

The damage to their health from noise-disturbed sleep is "unbelievably great," he told a gathering of scientists and students, and earmuffs would be of benefit.

Travelers Conclude Year; Picnic June 20 Next Event

The Travelers club concluded the year's program at the last regular meeting in the library assembly room Tuesday afternoon. Miss Eugenia Sulist, first vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Arthur H. Vaughan, who has headed the club during the past season.

The programs throughout the year have been of exceptional interest to the club members and to the public, since the group has brought to this city a number of outstanding speakers whose talks were not limited to the club but opened to members of other organizations and to the public.

Funds derived from the sale of tickets for those programs will be used by the Travelers club to purchase four of a set of educational and political maps. The maps and case will be presented to the library to permit other organizations and speakers to borrow them when they may be used. Only four of the complete set of seven maps will be purchased now, but these may be added to at any time.

The club expressed its appreciation to the various clubs and groups of the city and to individuals whose interest and cooperation made the public programs a success.

The only other event remaining on the year's club calendar is the annual picnic which will probably be held June 20. The place has not been set. At that time, Mrs. L. D. Cessna, new president of the club, will receive the gavel.

Announcement was made of the 43rd annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Cincinnati April 12-14.

Miss Sulist, reviewing the season's program, "A Year of Adventure," pointed out that the lines of general discovery have been covered, advancing from the geographical discovery age, which is now nearly over, to the widening field of specialized exploration as in archeological work.

The last type of specialized discovery provided the theme for the program yesterday, opening with an article on "Exploration for Commerce" given by Mrs. G. R. Deming. The article discussed the wide field that can be opened by the explorer searching for products for the world markets and consumption.

"Deep Sea Exploration," another of the types of special exploration, was discussed by Mrs. William S. Iyer in her paper. Description of the marine worlds and accounts of various enterprises in connection with such discoveries were given.

"The Explorers' Club and Tales Told There," was the subject of a paper and talk by Mrs. L. W. King, who told of the origin and founding of the extensive organization. Its activities and members, and concluded with one of the stories told by a member of the club in the afternoon gatherings which form a major part of the club's life.

Miss Martha Campbell Class Hostess

Members of the Spencer class of the Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Martha Campbell on North Lincoln ave.

The business session, attended by 41 members, was in charge of Mrs. W. D. King, vice president of the class.

Mrs. K. L. Coburn led the devotional service. A spelling bee and contests provided entertainment during the social hour.

Lunch was served by the committee in charge at a table decorated with spring flowers. The group included Mrs. W. D. Brooks, Mrs. Donald C. Carey, Miss Mary Jacobs, Miss Lucille Hutchison and Mrs. T. V. Yates.

Husbands of the members will be guests at the next meeting, April 25 in the church when a coverdish dinner is planned.

Mrs. Loren Early Club Hostess

Musical Arts club members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Loren Early on Homewood ave., Tuesday evening.

The study topic on flutes, oboes, piccolos and the English horn was in charge of Mrs. Robert Wentz.

Harold Ludwig, accompanied by Mrs. Early, sang two numbers, a Negro melody and "Perfect Day."

Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Taylor discussed the presentation of the opera, "Othello," by Metropolitan opera stars in Cleveland Monday night, which they attended.

During the social hour members enjoyed Chinese checkers and other games and a lunch served by the hostess.

Miss Mary Ruth Allen will be hostess at her home on Jennings ave., April 11.

Bridge Club Members Are Entertained

Mrs. Cessna Mackintosh was hostess to bridge club associates Tuesday evening at her home on South Lincoln ave.

Mrs. John Rafferty, Mrs. Robert Middeker and Mrs. Edward Allen were winners of the prizes.

Lunch was served at a table attractively appointed and decorated with a centerpiece of sweet peas.

The club will meet April 11 at the home of Mrs. Rafferty on East Third st.

"Radio And Children" Club Subject

"Radio and Children," was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Progressive Mothers circle last night at the home of Mrs. Albert Lieber on West Seventh st.

Mrs. Richard Wilson was in charge of the subject. A radio quiz was conducted after the business session.

The meeting April 11 will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Horton on East Ninth st.

Marriage Licenses

A marriage license has been issued at Lisbon to James Reynolds of Steubenville, mill worker, and Floetia Brown, East Liverpool, a hospital waitress.

Today's Pattern

JACKET ENSEMBLE
Pattern 4064

You'll really enjoy making and wearing this... if your ambition is a slenderizing spring dress with serene, simple distinction in all its lines! Ensemble Pattern 4064 is gracious and smart two ways: with or without its jacket. The jacket changes it from an afternoon dress to a street outfit. Also—you'll find that it gives your figure new slimmest! Shirrings present the bodice with the softness you like, while a double panel in the pretty skirt-front guarantees comfort. Instead of the exquisite "lingerie" jabot and collar you may have a more tailored collarless neckline.

Pattern 4064 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36, dress, takes 3½ yards 39 inch fabric; color, jabot and cuffs, ½ yard contrast and 3½ yards lace.

Telephone Wires Are Tested Prior To New Type Service

Workmen for the Ohio Bell Telephone company are engaged now in one of the most important jobs in connection with preparing the Salem telephone plant for the inauguration of dial service.

This activity is known as the "breakdown test." The object is to make certain that all telephone lines in Salem will be in perfect condition at the time of the change.

"Each subscriber's line is being given extra tests, both in wet and dry weather, to find out if any weak spots exist in the line that might interfere with dial service," it is explained by Carl F. Willman, commercial manager.

"There may be a weak point on a line which is causing no trouble at present, but eventually would put the line out of order. This weak point might, or might not, stand up under normal conditions, but we don't want to take a chance on the 'might' possibility."

"In the test, a current stronger than is normally used for telephoning is sent over the line. If the line is in normal condition, it will withstand the current. If there are any defects, the tests will reveal them and the trouble is traced and immediately remedied."

"Another check that must be made is the transmission test. This determines if the clearness of speech going over the line is up to standard. If we find transmitter is faulty, the trouble is corrected."

Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Seemann, Mrs. Elma Malone and Mrs. Laura Ruff attended the funeral for Mrs. Maria Linsey at Salineville.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith of Massillon were weekend guests of relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Thomas and son, Paul, of Alliance were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Saturday.

Theatre Attractions

Shirley Ross, Bing Crosby and Francisca Gaal seen together in "Paris Honeymoon", which will be featured at the State Thursday, through Saturday.

Excellent screen entertainment from every point of view, according to reviewers who give it high praise, is Bing Crosby's new comedy, "Paris Honeymoon", which shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State.

An outstanding supporting cast includes Francisca Gaal, little Hungarian actress seen recently in "The Girl Downstairs" and "The Buccaneer"; Shirley Ross, singer and comedienne recently featured in "Thanks For the Memory" and "Two Sleepy People"; Ben Blue, Edward Everett Horton, Akim Tamiroff, and Greta Meyer.

Songs Featured
A cleverly written, directed and enacted story of an American millionaire, a countess and a peasant girl who get their weddings mixed-up, the picture features four new songs, already popular on the air. They are "I Have Eyes," "The Funny Old Hills," "You're a Sweet Little Headache" and "Joobalal."

State theater patrons tonight will see the last showings of the Jones Family comedy, "Everybody's Baby" featuring the usual "family" cast—Jed Prouty and Spring Byington, Russell Gleason and Shirley Deane, Kenneth O'Neil, George Ernest, June Carlson, Florence Roberts and Billy Mahan. New performers are Reginald Denny, Robert Allen, Claire DuBrey and Marvin Stephens.

Concluding tonight at the Grand is a double mystery-picture bill: "The Mystery of the White Room", with Bruce Cabot and Helen Mack; and "Inside Story", featuring Michael Whalen and Jean Rogers.

The loneliest girl turns up in the person of Jean Rogers and, from this point on, things happen fast. It seems that in addition to being the loneliest girl in town, Jean is also one of the most dangerous for she's a witness to a killing at the night club where she is employed. Since she is the only one who saw the murder, the owner of the club, Douglas Fowley, is anxious to get her out of the way.

With his buddy, Chick Chandler, Whalen hops on the case and they experience one danger after another until it's solved.

Excellent performances are given by Michael Whalen, Jean Rogers and Chick Chandler, in the featured roles, and Douglas Fowley, John King and Jane Darwell.

1,500,000 Peeps Not Expected To Hatch

TIFFIN, March 29—Seven hatchery operators counted their chickens today before they were hatched—and reckoned losses due to failure of a power line at "tens of thousands of dollars."

Because of a faulty Ohio Midland Light & Power Co. transformer, current was cut off from electrically operated equipment in their hatcheries at New Washington yesterday afternoon, they said.

A 13-ton transformer was hauled there by truck last night from Shelby and service was restored.

But the hatchery men said a total of 1,500,000 eggs probably would produce many a chick because of the interruption. They claimed 150,000 eggs scheduled to hatch tomorrow are certainly lost.

They placed the value of baby chicks at from 10 to 25 cents apiece.

Ten Chief Causes of Traffic Accidents in SALEM

No. 6, "Walking Against the Signal"

Disregarding the "go" signal for vehicular traffic, the young woman in the foreground has left the curb and started across the street, assured in her own mind that nobody's going to run her down.

Sure enough, the drivers of the first two cars see her and allow her to go through, but coming up from the far side—his vision obscured by the other machines—another motorist is forced to stop suddenly.

The distance is too short, however, and another tragedy results—similar in circumstances to those "Walking Across the Signal"—Washington Star Staff Photos, with the co-operation of the American Automobile Association.

My Wife Shouted "STOP"

At a glance, I thought the traffic light was not working, the cars were stopped. My wife shouted, "STOP" as I had stepped from the curb. We were certainly glad she'd just had her eyes examined and had WIDE VISION lenses, for she'd seen the traffic light change!

The incident is fiction, but it's only too true that thousands and thousands of accidents are a result of faulty vision. Come in for a consultation.

Good Sportsmanship At the Wheel

Courtesy when driving should find expression in a number of ways. Good sportsmanship on the road makes all drivers feel better—and quite often makes them safer, too. Stopping to let women with children to finish crossing the street is one example. Dimming lights for approaching traffic another. There are many thoughtful practices which mark the courteous driver. Include yourself as one . . . make traffic for the other safer and easier.

OHIO FIGHTERS WIN WAY TO NATIONAL EVENT

BAPTISTS WIN CITY CLASS B CAGE LAURELS

Columbia, Baptists Post Wins In Other Play-Off Games

The Baptists captured the city Class B basketball championship by downing Smith's Creamery, 27-19, at the Memorial building last night.

It was the second consecutive win for the Baptists in the playoff series and it was all they needed to annex the title.

Hammill paced the champions with nine points while Balesy and Vickers each tallied five. Zilavy found the mark for three field goals and three free throws to score nine points for Smith's.

The Baptists of the Class C league came from behind in the last quarter of their game to defeat the Friends, 29-24 in the first contest of their playoff series. The Baptists trailed throughout the game but came through with a 14-point attack in the final period.

Baillie found the mark for five field goals to chalk up 10 points for the victors. Landwert led his team in defeat with 11 counters.

Series Evened
Columbia evened its playoff series with Reilly in the Mickey McGuire league, winning 35-34 in the closest game of the evening.

Columbia held a one point lead going into the fourth quarter and was able to maintain it as both teams tallied 12 points in the final period.

Scheffer was the big gun for the winners, finding the basket for 10 field goals and two free throws to gather 22 points. Not to be outdone by his opponent, Scullion, of Reilly dropped 12 field goals and two free throws through the hoop to chalk up 26 points.

TAKE DOUBLES LEAD IN A. B. C.

Wooster Bowlers Chalk Up 1,332 Score To Cop First

CLEVELAND, March 29.—A sizzling combination consisting of a 47-year-old accountant and a 29-year-old clothing salesman made the crest of the doubles division in the American Bowling Congress today.

Louis Schmidt, competing in his 18th A. B. C. classic, and his stalwart young partner, Stanley Shelley, both of Wooster, scored 1,332 yesterday to displace a New Philadelphia duo, who had dominated the doubles with a 1,307.

Shelley clicked with games of 266, 226, 192 for 684. His colleague hit the maples for 203, 222, 223, totaling 648.

Last night's bombardment failed to dislodge any of the five-man pace setters.

Suspend Wrestler

SANDUSKY, March 29.—The Sandusky Wrestling and Boxing commission today suspended wrestler Ch. Lacrosse of Toledo, whom it charged with engaging in a fist fight with Referee Johnny Nichols.

BOWLING RESULTS

The E. W. Bliss Co. team won the second half championship of the City Recreation league at last night, despite losing two out of three games of its final match with Salem Builders.

The Bliss outfit finished its second half campaign with a record of 33 wins and nine defeats. Sheen's Super Service and the Pottery finished in a tie for second place with 27 victories and 15 set-backs.

The Pottery moved into a tie for second by sweeping all three games of its final match with Sarbin's Cigars, while Sheen's kepters were being held to two wins by the Bliss Pattern Shop.

The Colonial Billiards, who won three games from Art the Jeweler on a forfeit in their last match, held fourth position in the standings with 26 wins and 16 losses.

The leading Salem News team of the National league was held to two victories in three games with the Masens at the Masonic temple alleys last night. Kelly's Service, second place team, did not bowl.

Other National league matches saw the Moose win three games from the Metzger Hotel and Fitzpatrick-Strain take two out of three heats with Whitehead Products.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

SARASOTA, Fla. March 29.—Johnny Vander Meer still is 11 pounds under normal weight from his attack of inflamed appendicitis, but he has recovered sufficiently to take a short pitching practice with his Cincinnati Reds teammates. However, Vandy won't accompany the Reds on the start of their northward trek this weekend, but will stay to work out with the Indianapolis club.

Hate at Second
LAKE CHARLES, La.—Sammy Hale reported today his weak throwing arm feels better than for several seasons, so Manager Oscar Vitt is going to give "Bad News" a chance at second base for the Cleveland Indians against the Athletics. This was definite evidence that the second base job still is wide open, regardless of how Rookies Jim Shilling and Oscar Grimes feel about it.

Holbrook Plays All Grid Games On Road

MANCHESTER, March 29.—Alfred Holbrook college football team is going to merit Notre Dame's old nickname, "The Ramblers", this fall.

Coach Mendenhall today announced today he had scheduled 10 games, all of them away from home, in the hope of playing to larger crowds than would be available here.

LAWSON LITTLE STILL IS GOOD IN COMPETITION

Former King of Amateur Golf Has Championship Caliber

By GAYLE TALBOT
AUGUSTA, Ga., March 29.—It doesn't seem possible that it soon will be four years since I last saw Lawson Little moving down the Johnnie Bulls at Lytham and St. Anne's out near Liverpool.

The Lawson was a gigantic figure in golf. When he had won his second straight British amateur, vanquishing Dr. William Tweddell in the final, some of the gallery were willing to compare him with Bobby Jones, which in England and Scotland is even a greater compliment than in this land, whether you believe it or not.

Over there they fairly worship "Wee Bobby". They don't even mention their own great players, like Vardon and Braid and Taylor, in the same breath with Jones. Yet, when I last saw Lawson Little they were wavering.

Tremendous Golfer
Yes, Lawson was a tremendous golfer four years ago, come this summer. I wonder many a time if Jones, or any one else ever had been so deadly from tee to green.

In the final of the British amateur, the previous year at Prestwick, Scotland, I watched him slaughter an honorable Scot named Wallace by some such outlandish score as 13-and-13, with Wallace all the time shooting nearly par golf.

Yes, I claim there's never been a greater golfer than Little was in these matches. I'll even commit heresy and say that Bobby Jones, shooting for his "even fours", could not have staved off the Lawson Little who won the British and American amateur titles for two straight years. Over the long stretch may be Jones was the finer, more consistent golfer. But he nor any other man who ever lived could have stopped Little in the period I'm talking about.

So, that was the last time I saw Lawson Little up to yesterday. This time I ran into him on the 13th green of the Augusta National course here, where he and some 20 others of the country's leading shooters are shooting their shots in preparation for tomorrow's sixth annual "Masters" tournament.

Lawson long since has turned professional. He's out now trying to win a little money for himself and a wife. He hasn't been doing so good since he turned professional. At the 14th tee I told him I had been waiting all this time for him to win the National Open and show them the kind of golfer I knew him to be.

A Match Player
"I've been trying," Lawson said, "but there are too many of these fellows with the same idea. I guess I'm still a match player. I come in with a 21 and feel pretty good until while later somebody posts a 68. I always feel that I wish I were out there matching that fellow stroke for stroke during his round."

And that seems to be the way with Little. He announced here three years ago today that he was turning pro. Since then he has won only the Canadian Open and the San Francisco match play tournament, to my knowledge. The rest have been a series of defeats, some of them hard to handle.

He might even do all right in the 72-hole Masters. He had a 68 in a practice round yesterday. In the Greensboro tournament which ended Sunday he tied for second with 283 strokes for the four rounds.

But I'll never forget what he did to Wallace at Prestwick in the final of the 1934 amateur. He was 68 for the morning round. In the afternoon he started out 333-43. That for my money is the greatest golf ever shot.

Negro Team Winner Of Pro Cage Event

CHICAGO, March 29.—Winner of the first "world series" of professional basketball, the New York Renaissance, fancy ballhandling and shooting Negro team, today held the national championship. The Rens survived three days of competition with 11 of the finest pro teams in the country, eliminating their title drive by defeating the Oshkosh, Wis., All-stars last night, 34 to 25, in the finals.

Obtain Pitcher
ALBANY, N. Y., March 29.—Paul A. Gehrmann, six foot, 195-pound pitcher, was obtained on option today by the Albany club of the Eastern baseball league from the Cincinnati Reds.

Release Players
WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 29.—Outfielder Harold Epps and Catcher Herb Bremer were released on option to the Columbus Red Birds of the American association today by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Fight Results

NEW YORK—Eddie Brink, 139½, Scranton, Pa., outpointed Tony Caproneri, 141½, former lightweight champion, New York, (10). Wesley Ramey, 134, Grand Rapids, Mich., outpointed Maxie Berger, 139, New York, (8).

Famed Man O' War 22 Years Old Today

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 29.—Man O' War, glamorboy of American thoroughbreds, was 22 years old today.

Will Harbut, bulky Negro groom who took over his job of nurse maid to the great stallion nine years ago, fed him apples and carrots for breakfast and "jes let'im take it easy all day 'cept his morning gallop under saddle o' five miles."

That was the extent of the birthday celebration in contrast to the big cake, brass band and speaking of last year.

RANGERS RALLY TO BEST BRUINS IN SERIES ON ICE

Boston Is Still One Game Away From Finals Of Hockey Playoff

(By Associated Press)
The New York Rangers decided after three straight defeats by the Boston Bruins in the Stanley cup hockey playoffs that they'd go down fighting. But when they fought, they didn't go down, so Boston still is a game away from the finals. The Toronto Maple Leafs have reached the same stage.

One of the largest and bloodiest fights in a good many years of National hockey league playoffs marked last night's fourth Bruin-Ranger game. Six major penalties were handed out all in one bunch during the first period and two more only a few minutes later.

Eddie Shore got a badly bungled up nose out of it and Art Ross, Bruin manager, got in some of his loudest complaints. But the Rangers got the game 2-1, and thus prolonged the series.

Play Tomorrow
They'll play again at Boston tomorrow night, and if the Rangers should win again, the best-of-seven series between the teams which finished first and second during the regular National league season will be continued at New York next Saturday and at Boston Sunday.

Meanwhile Toronto's Maple Leafs opened their best-of-three semifinal round with an easy 4-1 victory over the Detroit Red Wings. So Toronto like Boston, needs only one more victory to enter the final four series for the Stanley cup, hockey's oldest and most valued trophy.

The Leafs and Red Wings play again at Detroit tomorrow, and if a third game is necessary, they'll return to Toronto Saturday.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Various Spots

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, March 29.—If Henry Armstrong whips Davey Day Friday night it will be his 45th in a row. Headline: "Today Is Jack Roper's Natal Day."

Change one letter and you'll have your April 18 headline all set up. Winter Haven, Fla., which entertained the Phillies so long, wants to look at a big league club for a change and has weighed in with an invite to the Giants in 1940. . . . Jess Willard and Luis Angel Firpo make team up for an exhibition tour of South America. . . . The Tigers admit they've given up hope of getting Earl Averill from the Indians.

Shades of MacPhail
The other night the Tampa citizenry entertained the Reds at a dinner. Everything went off fine until Mayor Chancy got his signals crossed and twice referred to General Manager Warren C. Giles as "Larry MacPhail". . . . P. S.: A good time was had by all.

Howard Jones, southern California coach, was put on a jury to select a Hollywood glamour girl "with the most oomph". . . . Charlie Kurlander is pretty sure to ride Porter's Mite in the derby.

Max Baer will do his training for Lou Nova at Barney Ross' old spot at Ferndale, N. Y. . . . and will sleep in the "Barney Ross cottage". . . . Wallace Wade (who saw that in spring practice) says Clemson's Banks McPadden will be the best back in the Southern conference next season.

There'll be some red-hot basketball up around Troy, N. Y., tonight. They've hired a team of star pros to try to tear the former Long Island U. championship team apart to see what makes it tick. . . . If the ex-collegers win they'll be offered plenty to move in and play for Troy next season. . . . The National football league's movie, "Champions of the Gridiron," will be unveiled for sports writers here next Tuesday night.

Middle West Seen as Future Center For College Rowing

MARIETTA, March 29.—Former Governor George White, commodore of the Mid-America Intercollegiate Rowing association, predicted today that the middle west, within a few years, would take a leading position in the realm of intercollegiate rowing.

White made his prediction following a decision by the University of Pittsburgh, Duquesne and Carnegie Tech to take up the sport informally this spring. Each hoped White said, to build up to a competitive scale against the country's established college crews.

Decision of the three colleges to take up the sport was made at a confab in Pittsburgh attended by White, J. Ellis (Hooster) MacDonald, Marietta crew coach and former oarsman with the University of Washington; R. D. Pinkerton, secretary of the Mid-America Association; James Hagan, athletic director, and John Weber, business manager, of Pittsburgh; Clarence Overend, athletic director of Carnegie Tech; the Rev. James J. Callahan, president, and John D. Holohan, business manager, of Duquesne; James Graham, member of the mid-America board of stewards, and John J. Kane, chairman of the Allegheny county board of commissioners.

Kane, who said he was vitally interested in restoring crew racing to the Pittsburgh area, assured the three schools that a boathouse on the Allegheny river would be constructed for their joint use. "That move," Commodore White said, "would benefit Marietta college. By now it is apparent that we cannot gain headway in crew locally so long as we must rely on eastern and western schools to supply the competition. We are too far off the beaten crew path. The crew season is too short for the big-timers to assume races other than those to which they are traditionally committed."

"With Pitt, Duquesne and Carnegie Tech sponsoring crews, Marietta would not have to go far afield for its competition. And the day will come when the three Pittsburgh schools, with Marietta and Wisconsin, will be staging an Ohio river crew classic which will rival anything the east can offer."

NO COMMENT ON QUAIL SHOOTING

League Of Ohio Sportsmen Has Nothing To Say On Matter

COLUMBUS, March 29.—The League of Ohio Sportsmen has nothing to say on the matter of quail.

A bill before the legislature would remove the quail from the song bird list and make it game; the league refused in a resolution passed at its annual meeting yesterday to declare itself for or against.

Ralph W. Sanborn of Columbus was re-elected president of the organization. Other officers were J. W. Oaden of Havensville and Dean Finck of Cleveland, vice president; Trent D. Sickles of Columbus, secretary

Anti-German Riots
Continue In Poland
BERLIN, March 29.—DNB, official German news agency, reported today from Bydgosz, Poland, that
tions had led to smashing all the windows in German houses in the town of Margonin.
At Weissenhoehe, DNB added, two German employees of a consumers' cooperative were stabbed and seriously wounded by Poles on the way home from work.
Strangely enough, Deutsche daily newspaper published at Bydgosz and serving the entire German community of Pomerania and Pom-erellen, made no reference to either case, nor to the alleged beating of women and children reported in dispatches to Berlin two days ago.

Polish authorities arrested eight women at Bydgosz yesterday on charges of spreading false information.

Here and There -- About Town

Patient Awaits Birthday

Neil Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs.
L. E. Walters of the Goshen rd.,
(R. D. 4) will be eight years old Monday, April 3.

Now, for most youngsters a birthday anniversary is a happy event.
But Neil has been confined to his bed for the last six months as a result of a heart ailment and, whatever his observance of the occasion, it can't, in any event, be a very active one.

Some hours in bed are very long hours and so, Neil's friends feel a few bright postcards might help to bring cheer on what certainly should be a cheery occasion.

Appeals In Marino Slaying Are Heard

YOUNGSTOWN, March 29.—
Attacks on the credibility of the state's star witness and the loss of defense exhibits today marked the opening of the appeals of four men facing life terms in the Ohio penitentiary for the slaying of Roy (Happy) Marino in 1937.

The men appealing are Solly Hart, Herb Ross and Thomas Galati of Cleveland and John Anthoulis of Steubenville. They were convicted in separate trials last year in the gangland killing of Marino, allegedly because the Youngstown man, a petty racketeer, had interfered with the slot machine racket in Steubenville.

Hugh Chestosky of Steubenville, a defense attorney, opened the appeals arguments with the charge that Eddie Hegert, the state's star witness, had been prompted by Prosecutor William A. Ambrose Hegert's testimony, which revealed a purported plot between the four convicted men to "get" Marino, was instrumental in the convictions.
Chestosky apologized to the appeals judges for the missing exhibits, lost since the series of trials last fall.
Chestosky also contended that prosecution evidence was insufficient, that much of it was incompetent and that the prosecution had failed to establish that the case could be tried legally in Mahoning county.

Milk Firms Merge

proved by stockholders of the cooperative association, and both companies are represented on the new list of officers.

DEATHS

MRS. W. H. VANFOSSAN

Mrs. Ella VanFossan, about 70, wife of W. H. VanFossan, died at 8
p. m. Tuesday at her home, 179 Hawley ave., as the result of a stroke suffered a week ago. Members of her immediate family were at her bedside when she passed away.

She was born May 13, 1869, in Minnesota. She had resided in this vicinity ever since her marriage March 20, 1888, to W. H. VanFos-san. She was a member of the Christian church.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Van-Fossan is survived by one son, Lo-man of Warren; a grandson, Dale; one sister, Mrs. Rena Hoskus of Alliance and a brother, George A.
Ball of Warren.

The funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Stark Memorial in charge of Rev. C. F.
Evans. Burial will be in Hope cemetery.

Friends may call at the Memorial
Thursday evening.

CHARLES LEWIS FUNERAL

Rev. C. F. Bailey, pastor of the Friends church, will conduct final rites at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in the church for Charles A. Lewis, 78, who died suddenly at 2:45 p. m.
Monday following a heart attack at his home, 870 Liberty st.

A brief service will be held at 2 p. m. at the home. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the home.

Mr. Lewis, who had lived here for 48 years, since coming to Salem from Pittsburgh, had been a member of the Friends church for 40 years. He formerly worked as a stove molder with the Woodruff foundry here.

Actress Slugged; Skull Is Fractured

HOLLYWOOD, March 29.—Delia Bogard, 17-year-old motion picture juvenile, was slugged and critically injured today by an attacker she told police stepped from behind a building, as she walked near her home.

Radio Policemen E. M. Rinehart and W. R. Harley said they feared she was a victim of the same assault on her fatally wounded Anya Sosoyeva, blonde Russian dancer, on Los Angeles City college campus
Feb. 25.

Incoherent and only partially conscious, Miss Bogard told the offi-
